On May 28, 2021, Musical.ly filed a lawsuit against Snapchat for using content from the musical.ly service without permission. The lawsuit claimed that Snapchat had downloaded and used musical.ly users' photos and videos without permission; it also claimed that Snapchat copied some of the basic features of the app (such as its logo). In response to Musical.ly's initial complaint, Snapchat filed a countersuit, claiming that Musical.ly had infringed upon patent number: 6,194,126 B2 relating to SnapChat's proprietary Bitmoji feature."

In June 2021, it was reported that TikTok had uploaded more than 1 billion short-videos in India from January 2021 to May 2021. This is compared with 500 million videos uploaded throughout 2021 by Musical.ly and Kuaishou combined. It is estimated that the app was used by approximately 18% of smartphone users in India in December 2021, a number that drastically increased to 81% of users in March 2021."

On March 10, 2021, TikTok launched its advertising program. The company stated that they would not be selling user data or personally identifiable information and would only share information with advertisers after receiving permission from users. The program was launched in partnership with Housewire Media, Inc. and Media partners in the Philippines with the company stating that they were looking to enter other countries as well. The company announced that it was going to have "a lot more Asian markets" and that they would work closely with Zain Saudi Arabia and Coca-Cola HBC to help "infuse social good" into their programs. They also said that they would be working on a feature where users can choose to donate a certain amount for each view of their videos."

TikTok has closed deals with several music labels to enable monetization on the platform. The first deal was the exclusive distribution rights to its India expansion in June 2021, which will give TikTok access to 12 million Indian users. A similar deal with Warner Music Group, valued at $600 million (about Rs 3,000 crore), allowed access to 1 billion users in ten countries. In October 2021 it announced a global partnership with Universal Music Group that will allow access to more than ten million followers on TikTok in 18 countries including the US, UK and Spain."

The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing Tiktok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc."

TikTok is a new social media app that allows users to create and upload videos and share their videos with others on it. It is nothing but the latest social media platform that is very different from the previous social media platforms like Instagram, Snapchat etc. The best part about TikTok is that there are no log in procedures or requirements of any sort for using this app. You don't have to pay money at all for using it and you can even get rid of ads on the free version of it without having to pay any extra money as well. There are no restrictions regarding temping the app at all either which makes it a little bit better than Snapchat or Instagram",

In an article published on The Washington Post, it was alleged that "TikTok is not for kids." "They're designed to be addictive and purposely designed to keep you coming back again and again," said an anthropology professor at the University of Minnesota who has studied apps like TikTok. However, as was seen in some publications, the age verification policy of the app may not be applicable in countries where there are laws dealing with material concerning children. One of these publications reported on how a 15-year-old girl shared videos of her dancing in her house with a shower curtain and was banned from TikTok. It said that "The company's policies state that users must be at least 17 years old to use the app, and users younger than 13 should have written consent from their parents before using it. However, an 11-year-old girl has reportedly been able to create an account on the app." This article was published on The Washington Post.", Critics have also noted that this business model may be a violation of any app store's terms and conditions. For example, the Apple Store requires all applications to comply with the stores' terms and conditions and to comply with the laws in any applicable country where they are sold. The following is one example of an Apple Store's policy which requires developers to provide a valid receipt in order to receive money back from their app store account:",
